VOL. FIVE RICHMOND CALIFORNIA, SUNDAY MORNING, MARCH 12, 1916. NUMBER 35

SUIT AGAINST HEALY-TIBBITS COMPANY IS THREATENED

CAVALRY OF MONTEREY IS ORDERED TO MEX. BORDER

Blockade on Front Tightens—Troops Rushed From Interior Posts to Guard Boundaries—Summon Aeroplane Squadron.

CENSOR VEILS THE CHASE GET MOUNTAI GUN TROOPS

Funston Ready to Take Up Trail Left by Chief of Murderous Mexicans—Send Many Supplies To the U. S. Commander.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—General Funston tonight reported various troop movements along the border, but the dispatches were not made public. The General's requests as to supplies and auxiliary troops of the special corps were promptly complied with, but details of these requests were kept secret, too, since it was thought possibly they might indicate the route of the expedition into Mexico.

General Funston asked the war Department late tonight for four additionkl regiments of cavalry for patrol duty on the border. General Scott, chief of staff, immediately issued orders for the First Cavalry, Monterey, California; the Elevnth Cavalry, Fort Oglthorpe, Ga., and the Twelfth Cavalry, Robinson, Neb., to proceed at once to the border.

Army officers estimated it would take from three to four days for the three cavalry regiments ordered out today to reach the border. The regiment from Monterey, Cal., probably will be the first to arrive. While no announcement was made the order was construed to mean that General Funston intended to employ the four cavalry regiments now on duty as part of this expeditionary force, which, it is understood wil be under the direct command of Brigadier-General Pershing.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—General Funston, under orders from President Wilson to hunt down Villas bandit army in Northern Mexico, was moving his troops at the border tonight under a veil of rigid secrecy.

SAN ANTONIO, March 11.—Instructed by the War Department at Washington that he was not to personally command hte troops that will cross the Rio Grande for Francisco Villa, Major-General Frederick Funston today began to make plans and arrange details of the expedition for the safeguarding of the entire Mexican border.

Says Steam Shovelers HaveOvertimeComing

Would Force Construction Co. To Pay City For Alleged Breach of Contract

City Attorney D. J. Hall is investigating the legal phases of a controversy which has been raised by A. W. Wilde, business agent for the International Brotherhood of Steam Shovel and Dredge men for District No. 4, including Richmond, over the manner in which rock for the municipal wharf, which is now nearing completion, was secured by the Healy-Tibbitts Contracting company.

Wilde, accompanied by Secretary Paul Sharrenburg of the State Federation of Labor recently called on Councilman William L. Lane and City Attorney D. J. Hall in this city and complained that Healy-Tibbitts and company had secured all of the rock for the foundation of the city wharf from its own quarry, situated between the Standard Oil company's plant and Winehaven, and that the steam shovelers engaged in the work were being worked ten houre per day. Wilde who recently left for Chicago, presumably to take up the matter with the union's headquarters in the east, contends that in face of the fact that the rock was being furnished for city work the men were indirectly engaged in the execution of the Healy-Tibbits connay's contract for the the contraction of the municipal wharf.

The eight-hour law provides that eight hours shall constitute a day's work in all contracts which would apply particularly to city, state, or federal work.

Embodied in the contract entered into between the city of Richmond and the Healy-Tibbitts company is a clause which specifically states that in the construction of the city wharf the men shall be worked but eight hours.

Wilde threatens to sue the Healy Tibbitts company for $600 alleged to be due the steam shovelers for overtime on the getting out of that portion of rock used in the construction of the foundations for the wharf. He has offered however, in his capacity as mediator between the steam shovelers an dtheir employers to compromise the matter for $300. Wilde's and Scharrenburg's visit to Richmond was occasioned by their desire to enlist the aid of Councilman Lane and City Attorney Hall in the framing of this compromise and its satisfactory consummation.

The labor representative promises to go further if satisfactory adjustment is not reached and to force the Healy-Tibbitts company to pay the city of Richmond two dollars per day per man for every day in which they were engaged in getting out rock for the city job.

A channel was dredged by the Healy-Tibbitts company and the mud removed from that section over which the city wharf now stands. Approximately 100,000 yards of rock was then secured from the Healy-Tibbitts quarry at a price of 40 cents per yard. Seventy-five days were required by the steam-shovelers crew, consisting of four men to remove this quantity of rock. They received salaries ranging from four dollars to five dollars per day. At two dollars for every extra two hours worked by the men, the wages would about $600. This is the sum which Wilde claims should come from the Healy-Tibbitts company for the men.

He asserts that the amount due the city of Richmond, which ammount he threatens to collect if the matter is not settled to his satisfaction would aggregate $4500.

Recently Councilman Lane and City Attorney Hall paid a visit to the offices of Wilde, 1002 Hews Building San Francisco, for the purpose of seeing of the matter could be straightened out to the satisfaction of all concerned.

A contention is made that the same men who were employed in work which Wilde claims was practically performed as a part of the city contract were employed by the Shattuck-Edinger company in the construction of the municipal tunnel and that when this concern was declared to be unfavorable to union labor the men refused to strike although other mechanics on the job walked out, and that therefore since they showed a disinclination to work in conjunction with the other union men and are in no manner affiliated with the local labor unions, they are entitled to no consideration. It is also declared that aside from the matter of their receiving the support of the local labor element they are satisfied with the conditions of their employment at the Healy-Tibbitts quarry and that the State Federation of Labor ha sruled a special dispensation in the case of Steamshovelers to the effect that they are privileged to work ten hours per day without clashing with union labor policies, certain exigencies existing in this particular line of work making long hours absolutely necessary.

From a legal standpoint the entire discussion simmers down to whether or not the men were engeged alone in supplying material for the city wharf during the period in which the controversy has its seeting. It is held that the quarry, which has been operating for a period of nearly eight years has always furnished materials for a large portion of the contracting work all over the state and that the time the city wharf was being constructed these outside customers were being served also.

It is reported that City Attorney Hall feels the quarry could not fairly be considered as working exclusively on the city job when rock was being sold in other quarters at the same time. Materials for the Vallejo waterfront proclamation were being furnished by the eHaly-Tibbitts quarry at the time of the trouble, for one example.

The steam shovelers over whom the dispute has arisen are at present engaged in getting out material for a contract being executed for the Standard Oil company. The quarry is working ten hours per day.

City Attorney Hall is seeking to discover whether the contract has been violated by the Healy-Tibbitts company.

Secretary of the State Federation of Labor Paul Sharrenburg is quoted as saying that "some sort of a compromise should be effected."

BIG MEN ENLISTED IN THRIFT CAMPAIGN

More Than One Hundred Cities Already Interested.

The American Bankers Association, which has a membership of more than fifteen thousand banks in the United States, is conducting a great nation-wide campaign of education to promote thrift. Preachers and educators, business men and bankers, social workers and employees of labor are combining their efforts, supporting the work of advocating the cause of this important campaign carried on by a mighty association.

At the present time more than one hundred cities are, locally, conducting this thrift campaign. The work has been thoroughly organized by the American Bankers Association. Committees composed of bankers, educators, social workers, etc., have been formed in each one of these cities, and the campaign is being conducted under their direction.

Some of the foremost men of the country are members of a national commission which heads this campaign. Among them are:

Wm. Howard Taft, Gov. Charles S. Whitman of New York, John N. Willys of Toledo, O.; James K. Lynch, President of the A. B. A.; T. M. Dodson of Bethlehem, Pa.; Frank Trumbull, Chairman of Board Chesapeake & Ohio RR.; Hugh Chalmers of Detroit, R. V. Covington of Jacksonville, Thomas A. Edison, C. H. Ellis of New Orleans, John V. Farwell of Chicago, James B. Forgan of Chicago, Lewis B. Franklin of New York, Cardinal Gibbons, A. J. Hemphill, A. Barton Hepburn, Myron T. Herrick, George S. Johns, William A. Scott, University of Wisconsin; E. C. Simmons of St. Louis, Mo.; William Sproule, President Southern Pacific Co.

The climax of the campaign will be in November of this year when an International Thrift Congress will be held in New York City.

One of the prime features of the campaign is the extension of school savings banks,—funds established for the purpose of receiving a small savings of school children and encouraging the habit of systematic accumulations. There is no greater field for the inculcation of habits of thrift in the minds of the people than these banks. The Jesuit Fathers used to say, "Give me the child until he is seven years old, then you can have him." If the child is taught in this practical way to save his money systematically there is no doubt that he will acquire valuable habits of living; he will become a better manager of his private affairs; he will be more economical and he will have greater foresight. Just recently one hundred and eighty-two school banks were organized in Detroit. In the campaign in New York City they are aiming to establish one hundred new school banks by the first of May. Through the "New York Mail" an attempt is being made to raise fifty thousand dimes for the school children; that is, a dime will be given to each child as soon as he accumulates his first ninety cents in the new banks. Under the system known as the "Brooklyn Plan" originated by A. N. Clark, who is the chairman of the Centennial Committee for the Extension of School Savings in New York City, the children operate the bank themselves under the supervision of one of the teachers who is also the treasurer of the bank. Each child in the eighth year class takes his turn at filling various positions in the bank from messenger to President. They have a Board of Directors composed of twenty-four children, who meet regularly and discuss the affairs of the bank. At the end of the school year and when these eighth year pupils graduate, in addition to the diploma of graduation they are given a certificate showing that they have filled the various positions in the school bank. The pupils use these certificates as recommendations to secure positions.

There is no doubt that this thrift campaign will create a new interest in thrift, a new understanding of the subject. There will not be as much extravagance and waste. The people will live within their incomes and not mortgage everything they own.

TEACHING BOYS TO SAVE.

A certain father has devised a rather novel plan to develop resisting power in his boys. Knowing the value of self-control, especially in money matters, he gives each boy a weekly allowance, with the stipulation that it must be carried in the pocket during the week, and only half of it spent. One boy receives twenty cents each week. If he produces a dime at the week end, he gets another twenty cents; if he doesn't he gets only a dime. The other boy receives a dime and must produce a nickel to get another dime. There is thus a constant opportunity to spend, but a constant incentive to save—to resist. It may be that the reward spurs them on, but the fact remains that this father is developing resisting power in the boys that will stand them in good stead in after years.

LOCAL HIGH LOSES TO CENTERVILLE

Richmond High School was defeated in the first baseball game of the season yesterday afternoon when it stacked up against the fast aggregation representing Centerville HI, at Centerville. The score was 4 to 1. The locals attribute their loss principally to their weak hitting and partly to the wildness of Pitcher Brown. Brown is one of the best twirlers ever on the staff of the Richmond aggregation but at times loses control, whereupon his good arm becomes something of a detriment.

McCormick caught Brown's fast ones. Raitt played a good game, hooking one out of the hky during the contest that brught the bleachers out of ther seats. Christian in center converted some hard try and grabbed off several good bingles.

CONTEST RIVALRY RUNNING RIOT

STANDING OF CONTESTANTS IN POPULARITY CONTEST OF LOCAL BASEBALL FANS.

Miss Margaret French	1,300
Miss Ivy Cunick	1,130
Miss Florence Waddingham	750
Miss Mildred Truitt	510
Miss Dora Iverson	510
Miss Bessie Campbell	500
Miss Bessie Donnolly	500
Miss Dolly Kovec	500

Today starts the final lap in the Popularity contest being conducted under the auspices of local fans and boosters.

While the vote polled up until 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon was rather light, most of the candidates are preparing to unload heavily during the coming seven days.

Understand this, you fans and boosters. This contest is not for the purpose of having the young wome nentered do all the work. Not by a long ways. It cannot be possible that you are so crippled that you cannot navigate over to William Luce's office at the Pacific Gas and Electric or Gus Lang's Drug store or Neidecker's drug store and ask for some blank votes. Then fill in the coupons. Everyone can certainly spare fifty cents or a buck.

This is the final week, remember that. ou can either be a Mr. Tightuswad or you can do your duty and contribute a few shekels. There is no glory in either way, but it gves a fellow a little satisfaction to know that he contributed to a mighty good investment from which he will reap a benefit whether he chips in or not.

Now don't for one instant imagine that the writer is trying to slam anyone. The boys have been "coming through" very nicely. But here's the idea. We want this week to put up a record? Everyone has been holding back for the final sprint and in these seven days, many duckets should be raised.

Luce will be set back an even $1500 by the new grandstand without including the extra expense of fixing up the grounds and other improvements. Let's don't have Bill be the "goat" for all of the expense. The local club, like every club in the state with the exception of Petaluma lost considerablo coin last season.

Luce foted the bills without a murmer. Now its up to the whole gang of us to get out and root for the success of this contest. Every jitney counts so chase around and scare up some stray coin for votes.

Miss Margaret Frfench continues to lead the contest by a small margin. Miss Florence Waddingham who was in second place when the statistics were compiled last is now in third place, while Miss Ivy Connick has jumped into second place.

Now who is going to change places this week? Expect some big changes, and help to be one of the bunch responsible for the changes.

Now our tale of woe has been told. Go down to First street and Macdonald avenue today and look the grounds and grandstand over.

This will give you an idea of just what is what and when you lamp those improvements, its an even break that some more votes will be checked up.

Remember, again, this is the last week. There will be no continuation of the contest. The committee said that it would end March 18th and on March 18th it ends. The votes will continue to retail and wholesale at one cent each.

There are five prizes: a ladies gold watch valud at $50 donated by Frank Dietrich; a lavalier donated by Otto Poulsen and a bracelet donated by E. M. Weed. These gentlemen have shown the right spirit and have done what they could to make the contest a success. Now do your part. There will also be two season passes awarded.

U. C. Extension Department to Organize Mechanics Class Here

The following communication has been received at the Daily News Office from H. H. Bliss, in charge of technical courses in the University courses.

Editor Daily News,
Richmond Cal.

Dear Sir:

According to the announcement which I sent you several days ago, we held an organization meeting for people interested in technical work and find sufficient response so that we have made arrangements for a class in mechanics which will meet every Friday evening at 7:30 in the drawing room at the Richmond Union High School.

If you know of anyone interested, we shall consider it a favor if you can see that he receives this notification. The first regular meeting of the class will occur on Friday, March 17th.

H. H. BLISS,
Sincerely yours,
In charge of Technical Courses.

SEASON OPENS ON WEEK FROM TODAY

What's on tap for Sunday March 19, 1916?

Answer: The opening of the baseball season and dedication of the new $1,500 grandstand.

Who's going to the there?

Every able bodied citizen of Richmond and a gang like ourselves disabled boobs. But we are going to be there if we have to charter Smallwood's or Curry's or Barber's hearse.

The big celebration will open promptly at 1:30 o'clock, with an automobile parade. The parade will be lead by the Richmond Concert band, that loyal an dable squad of local music dispensers.

They will be followed by the machine carrying the five victors in the popularity contest of the local baseball fans.

And then there will come a string of machines. There may be fifty in that parade and there may be a hundred but there'll be at least fifty.

A committee consisting of Otto Dietrich, chairman; Bert Curry and William Cottingham, will attend to the matter of securing automobiles for the day. The parade will start at Sixteenth street and Macdonald travel west along Macdonald avenue to Washington avenue on the west side; make the loop around Richmond avenue and return to the baseball grounds.

At the grounds City Attorney D. J. Hall will say a few words to formally dedicate the new grandstand.

Then there will be a bunch of cheers and also a number of interruptions in the city attorney's speech and THEN.

Mayor E. J. Garrard will pitch the first ball.

Woops mah deah, they'll be off. It will be a great game of the national pastime, too, let us assure you on that point, friends.

Now let's look our Champions over.

Charlie Burns, veteran of many campaigns in the service of the Richmond Elks has been delegated to the task of pitching the opener. Charles is in mid season form and should show up well. Frank Gordon, hero of many battles is also in fine trim and reports being well under the 300 pound mark.

"Country" Schinkle will also occupy a place on the bench. He will be used during the season and as his past performances have shown him to possess considerable "stuff" including a wonderful wildness he should go good this season, having eliminated his barbaric tendencies.

Skipper Ingraham will hang around first, and the skipper let us remark is ready for a grilling season. At second will be Sir John Christianson. Sir John is in good shape and it will be a rough one that gets by him.

Despite all rumors to the contrary, Edwardus Bann will officiate at the third station. Edwardus has just returned from a trip to Honolulu with the Olympic club and we are prepared to see the game and steady little third sacker pull some more of his clever work. As we won't be disappointed, either.

Jack Cooper will be with us again in the shortfield. Jackson has been working out during the past weeks and will prove mighty disagreeable to opponents driving 'em down in his territory.

The outfield! It's a sight to make a guy feel like getting up and hollering his head off. Say fellers that is some outfield. In left we have Cutie Cunningham; in center we have Mr. Robert Obdiah Murphy and in right we have Mr. William Daniels.

And by Gerge, don'tcher know we almost overlooked Clifton Cleek. Forgive us. Clifton will as usual officiate on the reception end of things.

After loking that bunch over we ask what is the answer? Sure you know Richmond Elks, 1916 champs.
